ITBUSINESSEDGE

QuinStreet ●●● 10400 Linn Station Road, Suite 100 ●●● Louisville, KY 40223

Job Description:
Information Specialist / IT Business Analyst

Assists in planning, coordinates and documents design of functionality for modifications or enhancements to software products by performing the following duties: maintains functional specification documents for software products; produces software design documents and communicates enhancements or modifications to programming group for development; assists with developing internal integration test plan and performing internal integration testing on modifications or new products; provides operations group with product and technical support; trains operations group on new products or changes to existing products.

Requirements/Background:

- Bachelor of Science with strong computer skills including : Microsoft Office, Microsoft Project, and databases
- Minimum 3 to 10 years experience dealing directly with customers and developers
- Strong analytical skills
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills

The attached zip file includes:

- Intro Page.pdf
- ISITBusinessAnalyst.doc